Product Description

Microwave sensor LED high bay light 50W-300W

1. Product features,

The microwave sensor component adopts the Doppler principle, uses a flat antenna to transmit and receive a general 5.8GH high-frequency microwave signal. After the signal is processed, to control the lamp and the automatic induction device.

The microwave sensor device light has no blind spots and has strong anti-interference ability

The dimming brightness can be set according to clients' requirements, the brightness is 100% when there are people, and the brightness is automatically adjusted to 30% when there are no people. (The brightness is 5-100%, within this brightness can be customized according to the requirements of clients

This PIR sensor is widely used in our 50W-300W high bay lights and 50W-300W flood lights, but it must be used in conjunction with 0-10V dimming power supply

2. Application areas

This microwave sensor lights are widely used in warehouses, workshops, exhibition halls, etc.
